

10 December, 2016

At a further protest rally organised by the Save the Powerhouse lobby group held on the forecourt of the Powerhouse venue of the Museum of Applied Arts and Sciences, eleven speakers discussed a range of compelling arguments for keeping the Powerhouse Museum in Ultimo, while looking at better options for Parramatta and western Sydney.

(Videos of speeches courtesy Jean-Pierre Alexandre, Save the Powerhouse)

Patricia Johnson, Save the Powerhouse lobby group: Introduction

<https://youtu.be/htO10rpeveY>

Tanya Plibersek : Federal Member of Parliament for Sydney; deputy leader of the opposition; deputy leader of the Labor Party

<https://youtu.be/zPLkhUI9qs0>

Jamie Parker: Member for Balmain, NSW Legislative Assembly, Green (also speaking for Alex Greenwich, Member for Sydney, Independent)

<https://youtu.be/NAPbIxlmgU>

Jess Miller, Sydney City Councillor, representing Mayor Clover Moore, Independent,

<https://youtu.be/WLRfvJzmKTs>

Linda Scott: Sydney City Councillor, Labor

<https://youtu.be/HDxwaeunOKU>

Lindsay Sharp: founding director, Powerhouse Museum

<https://youtu.be/4qkxmMbMSf4>

Lawrence Gibbons: Founder, City Hub independent newspaper; President, Pyrmont Ultimo Chamber of Commerce

<https://youtu.be/tnKVDwBx4Zk>

Suzette Meade: President North Parramatta Residents Action Group (NPRAG)

<https://youtu.be/qwhShZrAj3Y>

Lionel Glendenning: architect for 1980s award-winning redevelopment of Powerhouse Museum; Life Fellow

<https://youtu.be/XfVReWPmB70>

Jennifer Sanders: former Deputy Director, Powerhouse Museum

<https://youtu.be/-ohoIh-fbO4>

Kylie Winkworth: Museum and heritage consultant ; former Trustee of Powerhouse Museum; Life Fellow

<https://youtu.be/GODftHGIFk>